THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Heavy Man Falls.
William Lehman of No. 784 Clanton street, who weighs 200 pounds, fell from a San Pedro street car at Clanton street yesterday. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment and then sent home.

Cyclist's Narrow Escape.
R. E. McKenney, who lives at Sixty-eighth and Hollister streets, was knocked from his bicycle by an automobile at Main and Sixth streets yesterday. He was taken to the Pacific Electric Hospital, where his injuries were dressed. His bicycle was smashed to bits, and he narrowly escaped death under the wheels of the motor, which was driven by Eugene V. Baker.

Delicious Prisoner Dies.
George Congrove, who had been arrested on a petty larceny charge, died at the Receiving Hospital yesterday morning of delirium tremens. He was taken up Saturday night for having "taken money from the pockets of a drunken man. At that time he seemed to be slightly under the influence of liquor, but Sunday he appeared sober. Monday he showed symptoms of delirium, but his condition was not considered serious until yesterday morning, when it was too late to do anything for him.

Teaching Sisterhoods.
During the ensuing sessions of the N.E.A. there will be in attendance many members of the various Roman Catholic sisterhoods. It was reported yesterday that the sisterhood of the Holy Family of Los Angeles, which has been organized for some time, is planning to hold an annual institute for several weeks each summer, but because of their desire to attend the sessions of the N.E.A. it is necessary that this year the institute will occupy but one week, beginning July 22. It will be held at Santa Monica.

The hearing of L. H. Mitchell, president of the Joazeiro Mining Company, on a charge of using the mails in fraud, was continued yesterday before United States Commissioner Van Dyke. Two more officers of the company have been taken into custody. They are G. G. Chatterlain and Whit Thompson. Chatterlain was released on a bond of $100, while Thompson's bail is $100. Mitchell and his associates are making a strong fight. They will resist extradition to the middle district of Pennsylvania, by which they have been indicted, claiming that their transactions were perfectly legitimate, and that stockholders did not give the mine time enough to develop.

PUZZLING PROBLEM PARLIAMENT FACES.

Pasadena Socialistic Union, About Which Some Say Shocking Things, Is Knocking at Its Doors—Women's Papers Bright.

THE Woman's Socialistic Union of Pasadena is knocking at the doors of the Woman's Parliament, now in session at Santa Monica. "Shall we allow them representation?" That is the question that is agitating the officials of this splendid, broad-minded parliament of women's organizations, which has thrown open its doors to every creed and every sect.

The parliament has never before been called upon to meet a proposition like this, for it is whispered about that the Woman's Socialistic Union of Pasadena holds some very peculiar views upon social and marital relations. These views, if rehearsed at the Woman's Parliament, would probably cause a sensation, and the lovely wives, mothers and daughters who compose its membership would doubtless be shocked.

Prominent figures in the Woman's Parliament sessions at Santa Monica. Above is Mrs. Daniel G. Stephens, the founder; center, Mrs. G. S. Barnum, the president; below, Mrs. A. M. Jamieson, president of the hostess club at the seaside.

Miss Ethel Whitehead, the official representative of the socialistic organization, was present yesterday at the opening session, and several times during the day the pretty secretary of the parliament, Mrs. F. W. Force, looked puzzled as she read communications from persons wishing to know when the delegates from the union would be allowed to report.

The matter will be discussed this morning, and every one is wondering what the day will bring forth. Guided by the big brain of Mrs. O. Shepherd Barnum, and meeting at the home of the founder, Mrs. D. G. Stephens, the thirty-first semi-annual session of the Woman's Parliament will make history. Never before have so many clubs, societies and organizations assembled for one purpose—the good of the child, the shaping of the material that is to make the race.

From the six southern counties of California came representatives, and Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Diego, Orange, San Bernardino and Ventura women counseled together on child-saving measures, on juvenile courts, on playgrounds, and on physical examinations and other necessary adjuncts of school life.

Startling figures, the result of the child laboratory examinations during the past year, were read by Mr. Leslie, and compared with statistics gathered from the schools of New York City. He showed conclusively that to deprive a boy or a girl of exercise, and proper physical development during the years of greatest growth is to stultify the brain and limit the capacity of maturity.

He showed that a large proportion of children in the schools are suffering from eye or ear strains, or some physical defect that hampers their development, and he was most emphatic in asserting that compulsory education, by all means be accompanied by compulsory physical examination.

In speaking of race suicide, he said he thought that a failure to be born into the world is hardly so great a misfortune as a failure to realize the best possibilities after being born.

Rev. F. G. H. Stevens of Santa Monica and Mrs. J. J. Penny of Long Beach led the discussion which followed Mr. Leslie's talk. Mrs. Penny had hopeful words to say. She thought that if a man on this coast had succeeded in making a beautiful flower out of an ugly weed, surely by looking to the physical, as well as to the mental and moral growth of the child, great results could be hoped for in the future of the human flower.

"MOTHER SOMETHING."

A clever, witty paper of the morning was read by Mrs. B. C. Davies of Monrovia, her subject being "The Day and the Woman." The day was July 4. Among the many keen bits in Mrs. Davies' talk was her closing advice to women: "Know a little of everything, devour books like bonbons, and review them to your heart's content; write papers on protoplasm and the red stars; yes, traverse the whole field of the intellectual, the social and the literary, but in the name of the

BULLETS NOT SPIRIT ONES.

Shots Fired from Ambush at President of Anti-Faker Society.

Robert T. Hale, president of the Anti-Faker Society of Los Angeles, claims to have been fired upon from ambush at 8:30 o'clock last evening in Edendale while returning from the summer camp of John McLean, an old friend of his whom he had been visiting during the day. The shots were also heard in the camp by friends of Mr. Hale.

The president of the Anti-Fakers asserts that three or four shots were fired at him from a dense clump of young eucalyptus trees while he was on the way to catch an Edendale car to return to this city. He heard the bullet whistle. He went back to the camp and his friends escorted him to the car. He said he has no clue to the perpetrators of the outrage, but suspects a class of spirit mediums and fakers whom he has been prosecuting.

Mr. Hale states that he is brought to believe this by the number of threatening letters he has received recently at his home, No. 1842 Santee street, in which his crusade against unlicensed mediums is denounced.

SURGEONS TO FIGHT LOCKJAW.

ANTI-TETANIC SERUM ON HAND FOR FOURTH'S VICTIMS.

Receiving Hospital Gets Ample Supply of Remedy for Which Great Claims Are Made in the Treatment of These In Widespread Yerrable Tetanus May Get a Foothold.

Special provisions have been made at the Receiving Hospital for the care of tomorrow's victims of toy pistols, blank cartridge revolvers and other forms of noise-producers in the hands of Young America and elder patriotic enthusiasts.

The main danger recognized is lockjaw following accidents in connection with the explosion of gunpowder. To meet the demand that is likely to come, the police surgeons have obtained a supply of anti-tetanic serum.

This serum is declared by scientists to be a certain cure for lockjaw if administered in time, but its use must quickly follow the injury of the victim. Delay until the symptoms of tetanus are noticeable will render its use ineffective.

Police Surgeon Quint said yesterday that the only safe way is to administer the serum as quickly as possible after the injury. To wait a day or two may mean death.

Fifty immunity doses of the anti-tetanic serum have been received by the city's emergency surgeons, a supply that is deemed more than sufficient to treat all patients who are threatened with lockjaw. Injection of the serum after the jaw has stiffened is said to be useless.

Patients who are threatened with tetanus will be given an injection of the serum at the Receiving Hospital. Even if the deadly poison has not entered the system, it is declared that the serum will cause no harm. The assurance is given by the surgeons that victims taken promptly to the Receiving Hospital after suffering from wounds inflicted by firearms or fireworks in which gunpowder is used, will be rendered practically immune from the ravages of the tetanus germ.

Anti-tetanic serum has been in use for several years, but this is the first time that any considerable quantity has been brought to Los Angeles. One of the precautions necessary before its use is that it be kept at a low temperature.

MURPHY FUNERAL.

City Government and Many Other Bodies to Be Represented at Services This Afternoon.

In addition to the large attendance of the public at the funeral of Francis Murphy at Simpson Auditorium at 5 o'clock this afternoon, the Los Angeles city government and other organizations will be represented as follows: City Council, Mayor Harper and Councilmen Drenth, Clamplitt and Wallace; Young Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Frank A. Dewey and Mrs. V. D. Matthews; Young Men's Christian Association, Arthur Letts, president; D. C. Luther, secretary; A. B. Cass, vice-president; and Judge Curtis D. Wilbur; Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, N. B. Blackstone and J. M. Schneider; Municipal League, J. O. Koppert and R. W. Barnham; Chamber of Commerce, B. A. Butler and W. J. Washburn; Grand Army of the Republic, John H. H. Hoffmiller; Military Order of the Loyal Legion, Col. C. C. Allen.

No changes have been made in the funeral arrangements as already announced. The body will lie in state at Simpson Auditorium until 11 o'clock this morning until the hour of the services. After the ceremony, interment will be private at Rosehill Cemetery.

John M. C. Marble, president of the Union Home Telephone and Telegraph corporation, announced that the general offices will be closed today from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m., out of respect to the memory of Francis Murphy, whose long life was effectively spent in concentration of thought and action to lead people to temperance and high morality, without which virtue no nation can remain permanently prosperous or great.

The following harvesters will attend the funeral services: Misses J. D. Holbrook, J. J. Hull, C. F. McDonald, J. H. Rabenham, Burke, Hathaway, E. M. Van Horn, Addison Lytle, Grove Walters, C. I. Kennedy, J. H. Charles, D. L. G. Doyle, Walter Clancy, Dodge, Alexander Davidson, Davis, Clarence Smith, J. H. de Motte, Newby, H. J. Stephens, French and Chas.

MISERY LEADS TO DISGRACE.

Reason Commissioner Schenck Took to Drink.

Family Broken Up, Property Values Divided.

Arrested, Admitted to Jail and Goes North.

There was a domestic reason for the fall from grace of former Police Commissioner Sam Schenck, Friday night. It was sorrow, such heart-felt misery as often drives more abstemious men than Mr. Schenck to drown their troubles in the "cup that cheers."

For weeks there has been an estrangement between Mr. Schenck and his beautiful wife, and only a short time ago there took place a formal separation and division of property. The final papers in this separation were signed June 18, a quit claim deed was filed by which Mr. Schenck made over to his wife all interest in their beautiful home at No. 1924 Hobart boulevard, officially known as lot 3, block

MRS. SAM W. SCHENCK.

FULLER FOR POLICE BOARD.

Capitalist and Truck Company President May Be the Successor of Schenck on Commission.

Charles H. Fuller, president of the Pioneer Truck Company, may succeed Sam Schenck as police commissioner. His name was suggested to the several Councilmen informally yesterday, and all seemed highly pleased with the choice, excepting Healy and Clamplitt. These two have a candidate of their own, in the person of John B. Zuhall, a Plaza grocer.

The Council session was continued for fifteen minutes after all work was finished, waiting for an opportunity to confirm Mr. Fuller's appointment. Then it developed that the Mayor and Fuller had not yet discussed the question of police commissionership. A hurry-up message brought Fuller to a conference with the Mayor in the executive office, but the Council adjourned before a decision had been reached.

Mr. Fuller is a local capitalist; he is reported to be the owner of about $100,000 worth of city property. In politics he is an independent Republican. Mayor Harper's first intention was to select a newspaper man for the position. Shortly after noon yesterday John T. Elliott, local agent of the Associated Press, visited the Mayor at the City Hall. The result of this visit was an offer to Mr. Elliott of the place on the Police Board.

Mr. Elliott took the offer under consideration, but sent word to the Mayor's secretary later that by reason of his position with the Associated Press, he is not available for police commissionership.

BOY IN JAIL FOR NO CAUSE.

HE HELD THIRTY-THREE HOURS "ON SUSPICION."

After "Sneaking" Him Without Result, Detectives Who Frightened Him Into Going to Lockup Permit Him to Go, Admitting They Had Failed to Connect Him With Crime.

Thrown into jail and held for thirty-eight hours with no warrant of law, Alexander Worster, an 18-year-old boy, who lives at First and Hill streets, is in a class with Bradner W. Lee and Kenneth Preuss, the prominent citizens who were the victims of the be-fuddled brain of Sam Schenck, once Police Commissioner, now private citizen. Worster is a poor boy without influence and he has permitted the matter to drop.

Worster's case is similar to that of scores of others who from time to time are seized by the police and detectives, held for a time and then discharged. Sometimes there is ample cause for holding such persons on suspicion. Worster claims there was no reason why he should have been seized and deprived of his liberty, and the detective department admits that a mistake was made in his case.

Young Worster is a press-loader, employed in a South Broadway printing office. He has a good reputation as a workman and is said to be of steady habits.

On the evening of June 21, about 8 o'clock, was his room in the lodging-house at the northeast corner of First and Hill streets, preparing to go to bed, when the landlady knocked at his door and announced that some man wanted to see him. Worster was clad only in underwear and trousers, and immediately afterward four men appeared at the door and without any ceremony they entered.

"Put on your clothes," one of them commanded. "We want you at the Police Station."

SO DIFFERENT IN LOS ANGELES!

WELCOME!

CALARIED PEOPLE'S HARD LOT.

The Pasadena School Board has done a proper thing in increasing the salaries of school teachers in that city. All sorts and conditions of men, and women too, have been basking in the comforting rays of great property for years, excepting some who earned their money in the honest way of business. Secretary Cortes will not be so much troubled as was John G. Carlisle. He will put out half of this surplus in a few days, redeeming a few percent bonds and reducing the national debt by about $40,000,000. If the receipts still keep coming in faster than the expenses return the funds into business channels, the money may be distributed among the banks and thus kept working.

Meanwhile, with a navy to increase, with coast guard to strengthen and great undertakings to carry along, the Roosevelt administration will lose no sleep worrying about a surplus in the Treasury.

THE DEVIOUS MR. HENRY.

A Francis J. Henry, whom the Times will show to be a persistent dodger before it is through with him, occupies much space in his friend Earl's Evening Express, trying to explain his killing of a man in Arizona in 1931, and he says: "The Times speaks of my conviction and punishment. I never was tried for it and was not even indicted."

Without pausing any more complicity, Mr. Henry, do us the favor. The Times actually did say that the position of the Times, taken seven years ago and sustained with many hard blows against all comers, ever since, was defended by the sale of a few papers last year to Mr. Calhoun, as it would be to hold the Times morally responsible for the killing of an old man in Arizona by Henry, or for the conviction and punishment of the same Henry by an Arizona court for having had improper relations with a jury before whom he was trying a case.

Why did you dodge and twist and squirm, Mr. Henry?

The offense for which you were convicted and punished was not the killing of Dr. Henry, but professional misconduct as an attorney in having had improper relations with a jury before whom you were trying a case. The Times so stated. It printed the actual court record.

Why did you misquote the Times, Mr. Henry? Why did you wiggle away from that jury-mixing case?

On another page the Times repeats verbatim Mr. Henry's defense of his action in shooting Dr. Henry.

IN THE HANDS OF ITS FRIENDS.

The triumphant control of the Western Federation of Miners by the socialists in that body is just what should be. Labor-union people have been loud and persistent in proclaiming the freedom of the unions from socialist virus. No doubt many members of these unions are not socialists. Indeed, many of them are intelligent and sane enough to abhor socialism when it comes to them in its proper guise and under its own colors. But they have no business in the average labor-union assembly. The "leaders" are socialists, not the theoretical, studious, dreamy sort, but the "red" type. Sometimes the student is also a "red," but often the "red" is a vicious, law-defying, brute whose weapon is not logic nor pamphlets. The labor "leaders" are generally of the same kind. The only law they recognize is that of brute force. The only argument they are capable of applying is a well-aimed brick or a red-hot rivet.

At Denver in the gathering of delegates belonging to the Western Federation of Miners 608 were of this red-riveted breed of socialists, and there were only 253 who were courageous enough to go on record by voting against a constitution committing the miners' union to raw socialism, whose syllogisms come from the brick pile.

There is some credit due them for hoisting the right flag.

A PARALLEL.

The "Bad Man from Arizona," otherwise known as Henry, pleads in extenuation of his murder of the client of an opposing attorney that the other man was a good many years older than he. When a fellow who had killed his father and mother was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, he pleaded that the court ought not to be hard on a poor orphan.

view has taken place through a radical change of public sentiment. The people generally have slowly come to the conclusion that there was radical injustice in permitting these organizations to shirk all responsibilities.

It will tend to check conspiracy and violence to have it understood that the courts will hold the unions and the individual members of such organizations, incorporated or not, liable for all unjust acts.

SENIOR SONS.

Today the hills are heaving; today the year's great heat is beating strong. It pulses in the air; it comes from the mountains; it is in the wind. For youth and hope are running high; we take the trail today.

The town is stale and old to us; the open road is new. The hills are old to us; the open road is new. The hills are old to us; the open road is new.

The hills are old to us; the open road is new. The hills are old to us; the open road is new. The hills are old to us; the open road is new.

SCIENCE NOTES.

A New Winter Barley. An innovation in grain crops is the discovery by Prof. Gordon True of the University of Nevada, of a winter barley which will thrive on the desert. His new variety is called "Winter Barley." It is a cross between a winter and a summer variety.

The cost of living has gone higher each year for seven years. There is nothing from rentals to a pound of fruit, that does not cost more. A suit of men's clothes costs $5 to $10 more than ten years ago. The increase is all 33 1-3 per cent. In the slack time of business ten years ago a box of cherries cost about 20 cents. This is an increase of 50 per cent. Compared with 1925 the general cost of living is from 50 to 100 per cent higher now than then.

In spite of this impressive condition and the other equally striking fact that prosperity covers the land as the waters cover the sea, salaries in some lines of endeavor are exactly where they were in 1926.

Salaries were the most faithful and loyal of all workers. They seldom belong to labor unions, never belong to labor unions, never belong to labor unions, never belong to labor unions.

EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW.

It is well on the eve of the nation's birthday to think of the Declaration of Independence. For 130 years we have recognized that the corner-stone of our whole governmental structure is equality before the law. The Declaration says that "all men are born equal." What is meant by this? It means that all men are equal in their rights and responsibilities. It means that all men are equal in their rights and responsibilities.

The courts have been making a new and important application of this principle in recent years. The last instance was the verdict returned by a jury in the Federal Court of Seattle last Saturday.

A printer brought suit against the Seattle Typographical Union No. 202 for conspiracy and persecution on the part of the union by which the plaintiff was thrown out of his employment and suffered substantial pecuniary loss. The jury awarded the man judgment for $5000 against the union.

We say this is a procedure somewhat novel in the history of our jurisprudence. The various labor unions of the country have purposely and with great craft avoided a standing before the law which incorporation would give them. They have conducted their affairs as private organizations for the express purpose of dodging just such responsibilities as these. The courts formerly seemed to have taken the ground that there was no way under our law of such suits. But recently a change of

OBSERVATIONS ON THE SPOT.

Every literary man, not otherwise occupied, seems bent on diagnosing the disease of poor old San Francisco. The rules are filled with provoking graces.

No one knows how many novels and plays will be written about Abe Ruef, because the people who do these literary deeds work in secret; but the border of the magazine writers are already upon us.

Perhaps the most famous man investigating San Francisco is Dr. Felix Adler of New York. To the fervent excitement of the university professors and the ethical clubs, he has discovered and classified the name of every municipal ward and built. He gives a lecture every other week. He is a lecturer on the subject of the city of San Francisco.

Dr. Adler has discovered that Abe Ruef is only a loose plank in the flooring of the city of San Francisco. He has another thought and came hurriedly to the city of San Francisco. He has another thought and came hurriedly to the city of San Francisco.

Col. S. S. McClure, proprietor of McClure's, has been in town one day last week with the "city of San Francisco." He is a lecturer on the subject of the city of San Francisco.

McClure's star writer is George Kennan, whose articles on "Darkest Siberia" were among the greatest achievements ever scored by a magazine. Kennan is an elderly man now and a most charming and unassuming gentleman. His vast experience and travel make him a delightful dinner companion.

I met him at Patrick Calhoun's where he was, during dinner, again fascinating stories; one was about the Japanese who had been shot down by the Japanese during the siege of Port Arthur.

One day he took his life in "his hands" rather in his finger tips and went out to the extreme front where the Japanese and Russians were hurling shells at each other over a narrow strip of ground a few hundred yards wide.

Kennan says that the Japanese camp was huddled close under the shell of a cliff. The fire was so frightful that they could only come down into the trenches for fifteen minutes at a time.

Into this hell a Japanese lieutenant named Kennan confessed that he was badly scared himself, but says that the Japanese seemed to think little of it, with the shells bursting on every side of them. The Russians were shooting shrapnel which threw hundreds of bullets down as they burst.

The lieutenant led the way to a bomb proof built into the side of the cliff. Half the roof of the thing had been blown off by a shell, leaving a big ragged hole. Before he noticed it, Kennan took a seat directly under this hole in the roof and was ashamed to change his seat.

The officer who lived in the bomb proof made them welcome and set out a slight lunch.

He then resumed his own seat and raising his voice above the yell of the bursting shells, said to Kennan, "Now please be so kind as to give me an estimate of the character of your wonderful President, Mr. Roosevelt."

"Fine literary inspiration for drawing an eloquent picture of the life and achievements of Roosevelt," said Kennan, telling about it at dinner. "He expected a shell to come down through that hole every second."

Kennan talks very little as a matter of fact. He has quick twinkling eyes that seem to take in everything. He was the only outsider present at what was the most significant labor meeting that ever occurred—the conference arranged by Gov. Gillett between Calhoun and the "Civic League" and was presided over by Dr. W. W. Wines, a prominent labor leader. It was a permanent and historic event.

Less fair than Kennan, is Lincoln

MADE MAD BY ROAR OF FIRE.

Several Buildings Also Destroyed and Firemen Narrowly Escape Being Overcome by Heat—Total Loss Estimated at Seven Thousand Dollars—Flames Start in Chinese Laundry.

A fire on West Pico street at 2:30 A.M. yesterday morning, destroyed property to the value of $7000, several buildings being gutted, and two horses were burned to death. The blaze had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. For two hours the flames raged before the firemen succeeded in stopping them.

The fire started in the rear of a small building occupied by Kim Shin Wing, as a laundry. Its origin could not be discovered. The house of G. W. O'Dell, adjoining the laundry, was destroyed, but most of the contents were saved.

The fuel and feed yard of Wiley & Williams was the property to suffer and here the flames found rich fuel.

Several horses were tethered in the yard, but were rescued, with the exception of a valuable team belonging to Wiley. These animals became mad at the sight of the flames and dashed into the fire. The owner was seriously burned in trying to save them, and was taken to his home for medical treatment.

Adding the feed yard was the bakery of Bender Brothers. The building was badly gutted and the contents damaged.

Nell Glass, blacksmith shop, at No. 1515 West Pico street, suffered to the extent of $500.

The intensely hot weather made the task of the firemen particularly trying, and several of them narrowly escaped being overcome by the heat. The super-heated air which hung over the scene of the fire was like the breath of a giant.

The loss is divided as follows: Bender Brothers' bakery, $400; Wiley & Williams, $700; Nell Glass, blacksmith shop, $500; Kim Shin Wing's laundry, $200; G. W. O'Dell, $100; and the house of G. W. O'Dell, $100.

The laundry building was the property of Dr. William Brill, most of whose loss is covered by insurance.

PART II: EDITORIAL, LOCAL AND BUSINESS SECTION

WRONG PUNISHMENT, REPENTANCE, SYMPATHY.

The whole drama of life is fairly represented in the head-line. Half of it is there; perhaps the larger part of it. The other side is summed up in Right, Reward, Joy and Commendation.

Man is as prone to evil as he is to good. Human society found out ages ago that wrongdoing called for punishment and that the rod of correction is necessary for the preservation of society and the elevation of the race. The demand of society on the wrongdoer is not that he go out and hang himself, but that he repent of what he has done. The first step in the way of repentance is to take punishment. When the man who has slipped does this he has earned again the sympathy of society.

We often arraign at the bar of modern judgment the stern discipline of former days. The laws of New England in early times were severe—perhaps in instances too severe. But they made men. Puritan discipline had a good deal to do with the production of the stamina which stood under fire at Lexington and at Bunker Hill.

There are the days to think of the forefathers of this republic and of the culture which made them what they were. They were queer hats, indeed. Their clothes were homespun, homespun and home-made. Their manners were austere. They may have lacked sympathy and tenderness. They may have been lacking in charity for those who fell by the wayside. But they were honest. They were honest; they were honest; they were honest.

Another day of heavy scores creates a good deal of switching this morning. Over 34,000 points were turned in yesterday. Among the high scorers were Ralph Warren, the Alhambra boy, who came in with a book of subscriptions which totaled up almost 500 points to his credit and sent him scurrying up twelve rounds of the ladder landing him on the ninth.

Chonita Palomares, the Lordsburg girl, was next highest scorer with over 1700 points to her credit and she remains her fourth perch again. Wallie Swain scored third highest with over 5700 points and Stanley Tolley was close behind with 5100 points. Other scorers were Fannie Wolff, 5077; Elsie McConnell, 5009; Muriel Edna, 3362; Jennie Bloom, 1731; May Roberts, 1561; Zada Fish, 1315; Margaret Chung, 1262; Elwyn Van Zandt, 1161; Alice Chap, 1161.

Edna Wagner turned in no score at all and therefore Stanley Tolley, who scored heavily, shoots beyond her and enters the 35th row. Edna also suffered a charge back of over 500 points which made her feel rather blue. Doubtless her friends will get busy to-day and give her a boost.

Fannie Wolff goes up five rounds and sits down in the tenth row. Do that again, Fannie, and you'll be hitting the high places, sure enough.

SOLDIERS' HOME LEAPS.

Wallie Swain, the Soldiers' Home leaper, turns this morning and takes the perch the Arizona twin occupied yesterday. Wallie's picture appears to-day and you can see what a manly little chap he is. He'll be a good fighter, too, now he's once started. Watch him go.

HER LITTLE MARSCOT.

It sometimes happens that the little sisters of contestants play an important part in their success. This is particularly the case with Jennie Bloom, who is herself a genuine little hustler, and one of the very best and most businesslike workers in the contest. Jennie has rules regarding this and they will be rigidly adhered to.

DO NOT DECEIVE.

The scholarship manager wonders if grown-up people realize just what they are doing when they turn in a subscription to a trusting child marked "new", when it is merely a change of name to some other member of a family or firm and is the same old subscription that has been going, perhaps for months, maybe for years. You are wronging the boy or girl in two ways. First, you are teaching him or her deception as a business principle. Teaching him to deliberately deceive if he can and get double the number of points he is entitled to.

Second, you are not helping the contestant at all where the scholarship manager sits, but hindering him. Better not subscribe at all than to give him what he supposes is fifty points, only to have it detected by the route man within a few days and have twenty-five points taken off that child's score, thereby causing him disappointment even more severe than if he had not subscribed at all.

Friends, be honest with these young people. To most of them, it is their first venture into the business world. The Times aims to teach them correct business principles. That is one thing the contest is for. If some of these well-meaning people who, with a mistaken sense of helping a child, could sit where the scholarship manager sits and listen to the comments made by these wronged young people when the charge-backs come in, it would afford a lesson in morals that you would not soon forget.

"Why, I thought he was an honest boy," exclaimed a young girl who had turned in a subscription marked "new" and who believed in the depths of her innocent soul that it was genuine. On the back of the returned subscription receipt was marked, "Old change of name merely," and signed by the route man who knows precisely where the papers are delivered each and every morning. There were nine such returned subscriptions yesterday.

It is so absolutely futile to attempt to deceive in this way, for every single subscription marked "new" is at once turned over to the route man who has that particular district and he at once detects the deceit. Don't do it, please. Help us to instill the right business principles in these young people. A subscription is not "new" unless it actually increases the circulation of The Times. That is a simple rule and easy to apply.

THE GLORIOUS POINT.

The glorious Fourth is almost here, and contestants will take a day off and brace themselves for redoubled efforts. Many of them are planning little trips to the beach or mountains for the day, and you may rest assured that each and every one will carry his subscription book along and will keep his weather eye out for possible subscribers.

LOVELY VS. LIVELY.

In a letter printed a few days ago from a Vernon friend, Elsie McConnell, the types made a funny mistake. Miss Elsie is of a decidedly quiet and unassuming nature. Her friend, in referring to her charming personality, wrote that she was of "lively spirit," but the types were in a humorous mood and made it read "lively spirit." Liveliness is a good quality for contestants to possess, and Miss Elsie is a girl who is decidedly retiring nature that the writer of the letter is using guaged considerably by Vernon people who know both parties, and yesterday he called at headquarters and left a good fat subscription in Elsie's favor, and remarked that he guessed he'd better correct that adjective and have it printed as he wrote it.

A NEW CONTESTANT.

A new candidate for honors entered yesterday in the person of Miss Virginia Stivers of No. 211 East Twenty-fourth Street. She is a niece of Dr. Stivers, the well-known physician, and he has promised Virginia his support. She is an attractive little thirteen-year-old miss who will graduate from grammar school next February. She came from the chill and frosty north-land, having been born in North Dakota, and lived in Alaska for several years. She has been here exactly one year, arriving in Los Angeles on July 1, 1906. She seeks a scholarship in good school of arts. Miss Elsie is seven days late, but she is determined to make up for lost time by unusual activity.

ANOTHER VIRGINIA.

A letter from the teacher of the other Virginia in the contest, Miss Virginia Ellsworth of Redlands, reads as follows: "It gives me pleasure to say a few words in regard to the excellent work done by Virginia L. Ellsworth in the seventh grade. Lowell school, of Redlands, during the past year. She is a useful, painstaking student, and her work is strong in every line. She has unusual ability in drawing and painting, and her friends hope she may have special training along artistic lines."

"VIRGINIA L. ASHLEY."

THE CATHOLIC CONTESTANT.

Miss Mary J. Workman, president of Brown House Association, writes as follows: "I take great pleasure in commending Miss Alice Chapel, who has entered the Times Scholarship Contest. She is most worthy of encouragement."

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT OF THE BAR

THE Barons' Boy's class of the First Congregational Church was organized about eighteen months ago from the Sunday-school class of Judge Curtis D. Wilbur. The boys are active, energetic young fellows, aged from 15 to 25 years. A year ago the class undertook the sale of fireworks on July 4, and as a result a check of $184.65 was mailed to the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, the entire profits of the venture. Fireworks were sold at the regular retail rates, and the profit was the usual commercial profit.

This year the class, which has increased in membership from 48 to 125, has two stands for the sale of fireworks, one at Seventh and Hill, and the other at Seventh and Spring. The boys hope to send a similar amount away, and to have some money left to furnish the Storage is being accumulated at Panama and when Steamers are Ready on Atlantic World Trade Will Be Opened—Office Now in London and Samples Sent to England.

Delay in the construction of ships for the trade of the Atlantic Coast has prevented the Union Oil Company from yet transporting any great quantity of oil to foreign or eastern markets via the Panama pipe line. A small amount has been sent across the isthmus, and the company has constructed large storage tanks to accumulate a supply on the ground for all purposes.

The company will supply fuel for a large part of the work in progress on the canal, a trade that will increase with each year. In February last the Union shipped six gallons, or thirteen barrels, from San Francisco to England. The shipment was of samples only, to be used in testing fuel. The Union is now maintaining an office in London, which also represents the California Associated States Agency. Of course, the office in London will necessarily have much to do with placing contracts in many parts of the world where English corporations are operating. Perpetual May Have Oil.

The Perpetual, a company controlled mostly by the same person who owns the Tiber Oil Company, has run into a bit of trouble. A great deal of water is being bailed out after which it will soon be known just what has been uncovered. A good find here will mean the immediate extension of many miles of the Arroyo Grande proven field. This is now confined to a short distance around the Tiber and McVee wells.

Manager Squiers of the New Buena Vista Oil Company is in the city and reports that he has shut down until after the Fourth for a vacation. He is very much encouraged and considers the field practically proven.

The Union is now maintaining an office in London, which also represents the California Asphalt Sales Agency. Of course, the office in London will necessarily have much to do with placing contracts in many parts of the world where English corporations are operating. A great deal of South American business is in the hands of British companies. The same is also true of the Orient and Africa. In the foreign markets California oil is likely to have a remarkably large field, as the districts capable of supplying a reliable fuel at reasonable prices are not numerous.

Perpetual May Have Oil.
The Perpetual, a company controlled mostly by the same persons who own the Tiber Oil Company, has run into oil at more than 300 feet on its property in the Arroyo Grande district, some four miles from the Tiber. The well has been cemented and the water being bailed out, after which it will soon be known just what has been discovered. A good find here will mean an immediate extension of many miles of the Arroyo Grande proven belt. This is now confined to a short distance around the Tiber and McNeel wells.

cautioned by counsel not to answer questions too hastily. He was called by Mrs. Elizabeth Haddock at the home of Charles G. Haddock, after the witness had taken up his abode there with her sister.

"It was while Frank was in jail, and his wife came to get help from Mr. Haddock. He sent me to the door to say he would do nothing for them. She asked so miserably I could not tell her what he had said. I went back and told him, and he was sorry for her. He said that if he did anything for her it would be only helping Frank, and he had sworn he would not help him any more."

From Mrs. Senor's testimony it appeared that her sister had been ill at the time of her aged husband's death, her own following before many months had passed, and had not looked over his papers very thoroughly.

"After Cynthia died I had the keys of the safety deposit vault, and I looked over all the papers carefully. I did not destroy any of them."

Counsel for the defense introduced a number of documents, which the witness identified. One was a statement, written on the form of a marriage certificate, by a man who had been an employee of the County Clerk's office in Chicago before the fire. This purported to give the date of Haddock's first marriage as August 4, 1882. If the age he is reported to have given at that time was correct, he should have been 34 years of age in 1902, at the time of his marriage to Lee Nelson. The records of Los Angeles county for that year, however, show that he gave his age as 21 in applying for a license.

Testimony in rebuttal will be taken today.

SUGGESTS TELEPHONING.
WOMAN'S IDEA AMUSES COURT.
"We can reach her by telephone," suggested Mrs. Julia McKenney yesterday in Judge Monroe's court, when told she must secure another witness from Claremont before an interlocutory decree of divorce could be granted. The judge made a wry face, suggestive of amusement.

"I can't try cases by telephone," was his judicial decision; "you'll have to bring her up here. I'll continue this case till next Monday. I'm satisfied with the testimony so far as it goes, but there must be corroboration."

Mrs. McKenney had testified that she got along very nicely with her husband, H. McKenney, so long as she was with him, but that in Bloomington, Ill., in 1902, he had been fit to leave her without explanation. She had come to Los Angeles for the health of her daughter, and here, in 1902, she met the missing husband.

"He asked me what I was doing, and told me to stay with our daughter," testified the witness, "but he did not ask me to stay with him."

DETAILS CONVENTIONAL.
LONELY ROAD, NIGHT AND GUN.
Three youths, charged with robbing a Japanese fruit peddler of $7.25 on the night of June 26, near Tropic, yesterday were held for trial by Justice Summerfield.

According to the testimony, Harry Fitzsimmons, Clyde English and William Kyle (colored), aged 15, 15 and 17 years, respectively, accomplished the hold-up according to conventional methods. A lonely stretch of road near Tropic had been selected, and at the hour of 10 p. m. As T. Kono Shio appeared he was confronted with a large revolver, held by English, by Clyde English. He was invited to alight from his wagon, and did so. Fitzsimmons is accused of searching the Japanese while English covered him, and the negro boy searched the wagon.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons, mother of one of the alleged robbers, followed her boy to the County Jail, after he had been held for trial, weeping violently and declaring that her son could not be guilty of the crime with which he is charged.

Bail in each case is fixed at $1500.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.
WILL BE TRIED. Refusing to accept the arrangement made by his counsel with the District Attorney, by which he was to be permitted to plead guilty to simple assault, Patricia Espinosa insisted on a trial by jury yesterday. He is charged with attacking Oscar E. Kistman of Compton with a revolver on Kistman's refusing him further employment. The weapon was snatched from him before he could discharge it, and therefore he feels that he has committed no crime.

STOLE JEWELS. Alleging that he lost his employment in San Francisco through a strike and failed to find work in this city by which to support his family, William Pahlman yesterday made a tearful plea for mercy in the Superior Court. His wife and five children were in the courtroom. While searching for work, on June 15, Pahlman had gone to the house of Mrs. D. McKinley, in South Pasadena, to get a drink of water. He found no one there, and seeing a casket of jewels on a table, he snatched it and ran. He was seen and captured. The jewels, valued at $25, were recovered.

DEFENDANT IN MILK SELLING CASE IS FINED.

Police Court Justice suggests it Better Retire from Business or Obey Law—Dog Catcher Pays for Committing Assault—Prominent Citizen Assever Against Him—Partner to Be Tried.

The Los Angeles Board of Trade appeared in Justice Rose's court yesterday morning, as defendant in a misdemeanor case. It was alleged that L. F. Wood, manager of a grocery store at Ninth street and Central avenue, had been guilty of selling milk that was below the standard set by ordinance. Wood testified that he was an employee of the Board of Trade and had been put in charge of the store after the proprietor, J. Papot, had made an assignment. He indignantly denied that he had been guilty of "doctoring" the milk in any way and demanded that the dairyman from whom it had been purchased should be arrested in his stead.

From the testimony it appeared probable that the actual fault lay with Wood, although he had not wilfully violated the law. The chief complaint was that the milk sold lacked cream, and the court suggested that probably TAKE NEWPORT BEACH CARS AT PACIFIC ELECTRIC BUILDING. CARS LEAVE EVERY HOUR AND AS OFTEN AS TRAFFIC REQUIRES REGARDLESS OF SCHEDULE.

Magnificent electric twenty-mile car ride along the ocean's edge! Realistic sham battle on the beautiful bay! First annual reproduction of "Washington Crossing the Delaware!" Motor boat and canoe racing in the afternoon. Fireworks on the bay in the evening. Ideal surf and still water bathing, launch riding, skating, bowling and dancing. Excellent hotel accommodations at both beaches. Fine fish dinners will be served.

While it is not our intention to do business on the GREATEST OF AMERICAN HOLIDAYS, we will gladly furnish all information that may be desired relative to these splendid beaches. We feel confident that the enjoyment of tomorrow's great celebration will result in other visits. Come and bring your friends. Be prepared to see the finest ocean side and still water bay properties that Southern California affords. More natural attractions than all other beaches combined.

Crème de la Crème of Subdivisions

Glendale Valley View Tract

ERKENBRECHER SYNDICATE OFFERS 122 LOTS $275 AND UP
W. 6TH ST. LOS ANGELES. EVERY MODERN IMPROVEMENT

Eight Lots Sold In Seven Days

That's the record—not bad for a so-called quiet market. But our experience shows that there are plenty of buyers for good property at right prices, and that's what we have in Glendale Valley View Tract. The beauty of the proposition is that so many are buying for homes. It's a home-builders' tract. Just plain, comfort-seeking people—the kind that we neighbored with "back home." Three new houses started in the past week.

This beautiful residence on the northwest corner Pacific avenue and Sixth street, in Glendale Valley View Tract, is good evidence of the sentiment held by old-time residents. The owners, who are among the most respected citizens of the Glendale Valley, selected this as their choice of the entire section for a home.

We have a beautiful corner, opposite this house, 106x125, for only $200. See us about this.

There's a Good Reason Why

IT'S THE BEST THING ON THE MARKET TODAY. There's everything to make it so—cement walks and curbs; oiled streets; water—the finest mountain kind—piped in front of every lot; and—here's a feature that costs big money and absolutely unique in suburban tracts—electric light available NOW for house use. Then look at prices—$275 to $525 (except corners) and on your own terms—this isn't idle talk, but fact. Let us show you at our expense.

Wood had failed to shake the milk up sufficiently and had sold the first customer all of the cream.

The justice did not feel inclined to make any exception in favor of the Board of Trade and demanded $5, which was promptly paid. At the same time he suggested that it might be well for the worthy body to go out of the milk business if its members could not refrain from coming into collision with the law.

Dog Catcher Fined.
H. B. Dye, the dog catcher, who brutally assaulted B. Astrada last Saturday morning on South Main street, was fined $25 by Justice Austin yesterday.

As the victim of the assault was unable to talk English, William Garland appeared in the role of prosecuting witness, and his testimony was supported by R. A. Rowan, Frank Garbutt and Robert Marsh.

For the defense an effort was made to disprove the testimony of the prosecuting witness, but the stories told by the three men who had been on the wagon with Dye were contradictory. H. E. Lemmie, a negro, attempted to prove that Garland was wrong in his statements, and Lemmie swore that the assault took place after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while the police records and the testimony of the defendant himself showed that it had been in the morning.

Finally, in a last effort to save him, his partner, Severn, swore that he was the man who had committed the assault, and that Dye was innocent. Astrada was again called to the stand, and said that Dye had first hit him, but that, later, Severn had also taken a hand. A complaint was therefore issued against the latter, and he will have a chance to explain when his case is called.

Boy Convicts Them.
Byron Carter, an eleven-year-old boy, appeared in Justice Austin's court yesterday in the role of a detective. He had gathered evidence against seven tobacco dealers who were suspected of selling tobacco to minors, and through his testimony the men were convicted.

The defendants were B. Bonat, of No. 115 North Main street; G. O. Howard of No. 127 North Broadway; Jan. Kaiser, of No. 212 Temple street; Edgar Lusk of No. 234 Temple street; Solomon Nahon of No. 246 Buena Vista street; A. Defagino of No. 218 Bellevue avenue and J. S. Rapson of No. 612 New High street. A fine of $25 was assessed in each case, and the men were strongly lectured.

Knife Under Coat.
C. M. Chacon was fined $75 by Justice Chambers yesterday after having been found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon. When taken into custody he was found to have a butcher knife under his coat. As he was unable to give any good explanation of its presence there it was assumed that he was carrying it as a weapon.

Peace Disturbers.
Charles Logan and W. C. Austin were assessed $40 each by Justice Chambers yesterday for disturbing the peace. They had engaged in a fight on Main street Monday night. Both claimed to have been intoxicated at the time.
